

NATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON College Internship Research

SAVE THE DATE
September 28, 2018

Bringing scholars, practitioners, policymakers and students together to discuss the state of empirical research and best practices for college internships

Friday, September 28, 2018 | 9a.m. – 6p.m.
Pyle Center, UW–Madison Campus

Speakers and Panelists:

Carrie Shandra (Sociology, Stony Brook University)
Patrick McHugh (Labor & Industrial Relations, George Washington University)
Matthew Hora (Liberal Arts & Applied Studies, UW-Madison)
Tim Strait (Wisconsin Internship Initiative, Department of Workforce Development)
John Nunley (Business, UW-La Crosse)
Elizabeth Zachry Rutschow (MDRC)
Janice Kenyatta (Internship Manager, Northampton Community College)
Tim Alft (Student Employment Services, Waukesha County Technical College)

Panel and Breakouts on the Following Topics:

- Effective college-employer partnerships
- Student experiences with internship programming
- Conducting effective translational research on internships
- Legal issues with internships

Submit a proposal for an interactive session—for more info see ccwt.wceruw.org

The event is open to the public
Registration $25 | Free for college students

REGISTER:

608-265-2860 | ccwt.wceruw.org

Co-sponsored with Interdisciplinary Training Program in the Educational Sciences (ITP), the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development – Internship Initiative, and SuccessWorks at the College of Letters and Science.